

SANDFORD AWARD

Amanda Phillipson

Amanda is Lifelong Learning Manager at Ironbridge Gorge Museums Trust. She has worked in heritage education for over twenty years, with previous roles working for The National Trust and local authority museums. Amanda has a particular interest in the role of first-person interpretation in heritage learning, as well as being a keen advocate for quality provision for the under-fives in museums. Amanda is mentor with GEM, and is an area representative for the West Midlands. She has been a Sandford Award Judge since 2007.
